Continued from Third Page. stride averaged seven feet three inches. Wefers fin-ished like the wind, winning by four feet. Bradley was second, nearly four yards before Crum, with Stevenson last. The time was 94-5 seconds, beat-ing the English record and tying the American record of 94-5, held by J. Owens, jr., of Detroit.

RUNNING HIGH JUMP. Williams, London Athletic Club (5 feet 10 inches)

Sweeney and Baltazzi were bronzed and muscular and they went over the bar as straight as a crow files. The Englishmen were tall and white, and they took a side jump at the bar. Sweeney easily cleared 6 feet, Johnson falled at 5-10, while that distance was all that Baltazzi and Williams could do. Williams refused to jump off or toss for the position and Baltazzi was given second place. Sweeney kept on jumping, and on the third attempt he cleared the bar at 6 feet 5% inches, establishing another world's record. The best previous record was 6 feet 5% inches, made by himself.

Time-4:18 1-5.

Orton took the lead at the start, Cohnest running second and Lutyens, the Englishman, bringing up the rear. The men ran in this order for the first quarter-mile, which was run in 65 seconds. This was not fast enough for the American champion, and at the clubhouse Connest went to the front prepared to set his own page. At the half-mile Connest was moving like a piece of machinery, while Lutyens showed signs of distress, the half being made in 2:103-5. Then Orton began to gain on the Englishman. On the third quarter Connest had the race won, and it was only a question of how much he would win by. The time for the three-quarters was 3:14. Connest came home alone, winning by fifty yards. Orton passed Lutyens in the back-aireach, and the Englishman dropped exhausted at the far un, and he did not finish. Orton's time

Aifred R. Dewner, London Athene Charles and Time-213.5 sec.

As Referee Curtis called the start the "Yankees were surrounded by the Englishmen," meaning that Downer had the pole with Jordan on the outside and Crum and Wefers in between. Wefers, as in the shorter dash, was off like the wind, with Crum and Jordan close behind. Downer staggered after going a few yards and broke down completely at fifty yards. Wefers, lad the race at his mercy, yet his teeth were set as he rushed past the press coop, winning by three yards. Crum came fast in the last forty yards and he beat out Jordan for second place by about two yards. The official time was 213-5 seconds, beating the world's record by one-fifth of a second. Robert Stoll, a reliable timer, made it 212-5. The old records were:

English record, 214-5 sec. C. G. Wood Blackheath Blarriers, 1881.

American record, 214-5 sec. L. H. Cary, Princeton.

ONE-HUNDRED-AND-TWENTY-YARD HURDLE, (Ten flights, 3 feet 6 inches high.)

Stephen Chase, New-York Athletic Club.

Bodfrey Shaw, London Athletic Club.

William John Calley, London Athletic Club.

Ernest H. Cady, New-York Athletic Club.

Time-15 2-5 sec.

Chase had the pole at the start, with Shaw next, Oakley next and Cady on the outside. The Englishmen started standing up, while the American method of fingers touching the ground was adopted by Chase and Cady. Cady was in difficulties after going seventy yards, and quit, leaving Chase to battle it out alone. The plucky boy was equal to the emergency, and led practically all the way and won by a yard. Shaw was second, five yards ahead of Oakley. Shaw made a desperate attempt near the finish, and he and Chase took the last hurdle almost together. Chase, however, was quickest to get into his stride when reaching the ground, and he easily beat out Shaw on the flat. Chase broke a world's record, but as he knocked down the second hurdle the record will not stand. The ruling is a peculiar one, and should be enforced only in handicap races. In a scratch race the runner is interfered with, and it seems hard that Chase should not get a record he won so nobly.

Lewis P. Sheldon, New-York Athletic Club (21 feet 11 inches)
William John Gakley, London Athletic Club (21 feet 64, toches)

Bloss was the little fellow of the four, but he was thunky and game as a peoble. The big fellows never had any chance. Bloss is a clean-cut jumper, goes well into the air, and when well under way through the atmosphere he gives a spasmodic kick which gives him additional impetus. The Englishmen seemed logy and heavy, started poorly and seemingly would not get their feet high enough off the ground. Mentelson could not win a prize in a hovice set of games.

Charles J. Kilpatrick quit after going a mile and a quarter, while Horan quit as soon as Conneff shot by him in the third mile. Wilkins set the pace for most of the first mile and a half, when Horan took up the running. Conneff caught Horan opposite the clubhouse in the first lap of the third mile, and Horan shut up like a jackknife, and staggered over on the infield. It was mere exercise for Conneff, the little feilow finishing fresh in 15 minutes 35 1-15 seconds, while Wilkins finished in 15 minutes 44-5 seconds. Conneff did not have to exert himself, and neither the English nor American record was approached.

port that Harvard was about to challenge Princeton to play football this fall. There is a feeling among the Harvard men now in Cambridge that such a contest, if satisfactory arrangements could be made, would be a good thing. The talk of a gambetween Harvard and Princeton came too late in the season last year to bring about a meeting between these two colleges. NEW-YORK LOST, AS USUAL

Boston, Sept. 21.-The League season closed today with one of the most exciting games this season. Two men new to League company were the star performers. Davis, of Pawtucket, if he continues to play as he did to-day, is a treasure. He tied the score in the eighth with a three-bagger with the bases full. Harrington won the game for Boston with a home-run hit inside the grounds, the first on record. Attendance, 2,000. The score:

CRICKET IN THE QUAKER CITY

THE ENGLISHMEN MUST NOW MAKE 217 RUNS TO WIN.

REMARKABLE RECORDS OF J. B. KING AND Philadelphia, Sept. 21 (Special).-At the end of to-day's play between the Gentlemen of Phila-delphia and the Cambridge and Oxford team it was found that the Englishmen must needs make 217 runs on Monday in order to win the match. Nearly ten thousand people attended the cricket game here to-day. It was a fashionable gathering, too, the Four Hundred of the Quaker City being well represented in the grandstand, while there were a dozen coaching parties round the ropes. Quite a number of New-Yorkers were on hand, among those noticed being Mr. and Mrs. Howard MacNutt, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Jackson, F. S. Fitz-roy, E. H. Moeran, J. F. Robinson and A. L. Avery, The midsummer weather made every one feel un-comfortable, but it gave the Philadelphia young woman, who has just got back from Newport, Cape May and Atlantic City, an opportunity to get out indeed, with the bright costumes of the large num-ber of the fair sex who attended the game. The play was well worth witnessing, and there was a great variety of it. Although the wicket was a great variety of it. Atthough the wicket should have favored the batsmen, it was certainly a bowler's day, for both J. B. King, for the Philadelphians and W. W. Howe, for the Englishmen, had remarkable records. King was the first man to come off, and when he was credited with 7 wickets for 55 runs it was fully expected that his performance would stand as the record for the match. Howe, however, then got in his deadly work and his analysis completely overshadowed the fine performance of King. Going on when Pat-work and his analysis completely overshadowed the fine performance of King. Going on when Patterson was well set, he sent down 13 overs, bowled 7 maidens, took 6 wickets, all clean bowled, and had only 15 runs scored off him.

When play was resumed this morning every one expected the Englishmen to make a long score. They did not take to King's bowling, however, and when Druce and Hill were separated, the others were found easy. Druce was unfortunate in putting one of King's lumpers in on his wicket when he had scored thirty, while Hill advanced his score to forty-one before he got out. The rest of the men fell easy victims to the Tioga bowler, and the expected innings of 250 only realized 166.

The Philadelphians then went in for their second attempt, and when G. S. Patterson and W. W. Noble put on 30 without the loss of a wicket, another long total was expected. When Noble was disposed of for 14, however, none of the other men could stay with Patterson and the innings was over for 138. Patterson again played in grand style and contributed 61 without a possible chance or error. He exhibited the utmost caution and played the good bowling patiently and well.

The Englishmen will now be required to make 217 runs to win, when they resume play on Monday. This is not by any means a hopeless task, and as both sides are bent on victory a good close finish should resuit.

Another interesting game took place between the West Indian cricketers and the Tiffany Athletic Club, of Newark. The Tiffany men secured an easy victory, chiefly owing to the good bowling and batting of S. Taylor and C. Rice. None of the West Indian men reached double figures, and their bowling was poor. The totals were: West Indian, 32: Tiffany Athletic Club, 65 for six wickets.

The Crescent Athletic Club suffered defeat at the hands of the Staten Island Cricket Club by the margin of 21 runs. For the winners W. A. Hamilton (22) and W. K. Jewett (14) were the top scorers, while F. S. Wonham took the bowling honors. For the losers H. L. Patterson (13) and E. Napler (13) did well, but were unable to stave off defeat. S. Lever, for the Crescents, took six wickets for 46 runs, a most creditable performance. The totals were: Staten Island Cricket Club, 33; Crescent Athletic Club, 70.

He confirms the report of his early transfer to Stuttgart, Germany, made at his own request, where he will reside for the present at least, while his daughter, the young Princes, makes her entrance into Russian society. Prince Cantacuzene leaves Washington with regret. He has a sincere admiration for America and for the American people. He will start for his new post in about two months.

"I could not," he said to-day, "turn my back upon America and sever my official relations with this country while abroad. I have been treated with such kindness while here, and the relations between the American people and the Russian people are so friendly and cerdial, that I felt that I must return and fay goodby in person—that any other course would not be consistent with my regard for the United States."

FORMAL CHALLENGE COMING

MR. ROSE WILL SEND IT THROUGH THE ROYAL VICTORIA YACHT CLUB.

John Rose, of the banking firm of Morton, Rose & Co., of London, and owner of the yacht Satanita, last week sent an informal challenge for the America's Cup. The New-York Yacht Club acknowledged the challenge, but cabled in reply that It would be necessary for Mr. Rose to challenge formally for the cup through a yacht club. In compliance with this requirement, Mr. Rose will forward a formal challenge through the Royal Victoria Yacht Club, of Ryde, of which he is a

A representative of the United Press found Mr. Rose in his office this morning engaged in exam-

I will willingly give you all the information pos-sible in regard to my endeavors to obtain a race for the America's Cup. I am anxious for a chance to capture the cup. I think the contest of 1835 was most unsatisfactory, and, departing from precedent, I shall not order a boat either from the designs of Watson or Fife, but shall order one of the design of J. M. Soper, who built the Itchen in Pay's yard. Mr. Rose declined to give even a hint of the dimensions of the boat he purposes to build. He disclaimed any intention of imposing conditions for the race he seeks, saying:

Any conditions satisfactory to the Cup Committee will satisfy me. I only hope they will give us clear water. I have not the slightest fear of meeting with anything but fair treatment at the hands of the committee. I suppose the conditions of the race will be practically the same as those which prevailed in 1836. My highest hope is that we shall have a good contest, and I mean to take the cup if possible.

Mr. Bose has a saying:

Mr. Rose has not been largely identified with yachting. He bought the Satanita, which he will enter in the races off the Riviera next March. He owned the six-rater Shulah last season, and has ordered a twenty-rater from Summers & Payne after the designs of Arthur Payne and has also ordered the construction of a five rater by Fay after the designs of Soper. The latter boat will also be entered in the Riviera club in proper form before October 1, the next races may be satted in August, 1896, which is be-from some yacht club. This is also in keeping with the deed of gift, which is specific on that point, and declares that a challenge must come from

Mr. Rose, he said, is a member of the exclusive London Jockey Club, of which the Prince of Wales is the moving spirit. While Mr. Rose's name does not the membership list of the Royal Yacht Squadron for 1895, Mr. Smith has no doubt of the challenge being indorsed by the squadron or by some other prominent yacht club. Mr. Smith added: is limited to about forty men. The Prince of Wales is the head of the club, and, in my opinion, the action of Mr. Rose was inspired by advice from a very high source. The challenge as it came to me was not in formal shape. I had a talk with J. Pierpont Morgan about it, and he requested me to draw up the proper form for the challenge. A CONFERENCE AT THE CLUB.

The chief incident at the New-York Yacht Club yesterday was the arrival of Commodore E. M. Brown, who came down from Milbrook, where he was staying on his yacht, the Sylvia, which was used as flagship during this year's cruise of the New-York Yacht Club, to satisfy himself as to the challenge for the cup. Commodore Brown and Commodore Kane had a long conference regarding this latest aspirant for America's Cup honors.

New-York Yacht Club, to satisfy himself as to the challenge for the cup. Commodore Brown and Commodore Kane had a long conference regarding this latest aspirant for America's Cup honors. One thing is sure-every one at the club is delighted with the reception of this notification of a challenge, it seems to prove, especially to the officials in the Defender-Valkyrie races, that the English do not as a people uphold the Earl of Dunraven in his conduct touching the races. A prominent member of the New-York Yacht Club told a Tribune man yestellay. The course Secretary Oddle said the English were bound to follow when they learned the facts in the case.

Commodore Brown said to a Tribune reporter yesterlay afternoon when he had finished his talk with 8 Nicholson Kane: 'I hastened down here as soon as I knew that there was a notification of another challenge. I want to verify the report and assure myself as to its genuineness as soon as possible. No. I can say but little about it as yet. You see in reality so far the New-York Yacht Club can known thing about it; that is about any challenge at alk of and which I don't doubt is all that if appears to be. Still, until a formal notification has been received by Mr. Oddle, nothing can be done.
